For Car Loans Phoenix Chooses DriveTime

When it comes to car loans Phoenix residents know that there are lots of options to choose from. Most dealerships provide financing for well-qualified buyers. Banks and credit unions are another source of financing for many people. But for car shoppers who have less than perfect credit, there are many fewer options. Banks won't talk to them, and most dealership credit departments just laugh and close the door. But there is one dealership that provides bad credit car loans Phoenix residents need: DriveTime.

It's not easy for some people to sympathize with people who have bad credit. "You were irresponsible with your credit cards!" "You didn't pay your bills on time!" "You burned yourself by not thinking of the future!" Sometimes this is true, but often bad credit comes from situations beyond our control. Divorce, job loss, injuries and accidents are often the blame for turning good (or reasonably good) credit to bad.

DriveTime understand this, and won't judge you by your credit score. We work with thousands of people just like you every month, and won't ask you to justify bad decisions or explain the inexplicable. We'll just take your current credit as a starting point and show you how, with our car loans, Phoenix buyers can pull themselves out of the "credit pit" and get on the path to improved ratings.
